Glendale Jazz & Blues Festival. Glendale's Office of Special Events is pleased to announce the jazz headliners for the 27th annual Jazz & Blues Festival, scheduled for April 17-18 in downtown Glendale's Murphy Park.

Headlining the jazz stage on Saturday is the Larry Coryell Trio. World-renowned guitar master Larry Coryell has recorded more than 75 albums over the past 40 years as a bandleader, soloist and 'featured accompanist'. To his fans, he is known as one of "the guitar gods" going back to the late 1970s and heralded as "a true pioneer of rock-jazz fusion" by The New York Times, and "the Godfather of Fusion" by Down Beat Magazine.

Sunday's jazz headliner will be the Gabriel Alegria Afro-Peruvian Sextet, performing a form of World Jazz with a distinctive approach to the jazz trumpet combined with the rich heritage of Afro-Peruvian music. The band is described by The LA Times as "a fascinating glimpse into how jazz is fusing with regional music around the world."

The Glendale Jazz & Blues Festival will include great music as well as craft artisans, and delicious food and beverages, including wine tasting by Kokopelli Winery. The event will run Saturday, April 17 from noon to 10 p.m. and Sunday, April 18 from noon to 6 p.m. Admission and parking are free. Parking is located throughout the downtown area, including handicapped parking. Historic Downtown Glendale is located at 58th and Glendale avenues.

Sponsors for the event include KTVK Channel 3, Arizona Republic, KOOL, KMLE, JAMZ, Kokopelli Winery, Sedona Pines, Pacific Monarch Resorts, Snapple, Glendale Residence Inn and Glendale Springhill Suites.

The Glendale Jazz & Blues Festival is produced by Glendale's Office of Special Events. For more information, click here or call the special event hotline at (623) 930-2299.

National Library Week. National Library Week is being celebrated this year from April 11-17. All over the country, people are acknowledging the contributions of libraries, librarians and library workers. They can be found in public, college, school and special libraries. Federal Stimulus Funding for Energy Efficiency Improvements. The city of Glendale received an Energy Efficiency and Conservation Block Grant (EECBG) in the amount of $2.32 million, to implement new energy-efficient lighting and other projects in city facilities and create an education campaign for residents. The city identified projects which are expected to reduce long-term energy use and costs, reduce greenhouse gas emissions, improve safety and reduce city maintenance and repair costs.

The benefits to the community are expected to include a long-term reduction in city operating and maintenance costs, improvements in the ambient air quality through the reduction in green house gas emissions, and a contributing factor to a healthier economy through the retention of existing jobs and creation of new contract jobs. The greatest long-term benefit will come from the public education and energy awareness programs that will help residents and businesses conserve energy resources and lower their energy costs and educate school children about the importance of lifelong responsible energy.

The grant will reduce ongoing operating costs and will help offset rising electric costs. Rebates offered by electric utility companies may be available once these grant-funded projects are completed. Any rebates earned from these projects will be reinvested into the program to help the city continue the conservation efforts promoted by the EECBG.
