Update on Purchase of NHL Coyotes. At the Tuesday, June 8 meeting, the Glendale City Council voted unanimously to approve a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) from Ice Edge Holdings to purchase the National Hockey League's (NHL) Coyotes team and keep the team playing in the Glendale-owned Jobing.com Arena. The approved MOU will now be forwarded to the NHL for a final decision.

The proposal keeps the city's commitment of forwarding potential owners to the NHL by the deadline of June 30. Glendale remains committed to ensuring the citizens' and stakeholders' best interests are at the forefront of any negotiations. Click here for more details.

Thunderbird Tower Restoration Fundraising Effort. A fundraising campaign to raise money for the restoration of one of Glendale's most historic and significant landmarks – Thunderbird Tower – recently kicked off.

The tower served as the airfield control tower at Thunderbird Field, a historic airbase opened by the U.S. Army Air Corps in 1941 to provide training for American, British, Canadian and Chinese pilots. By the end of World War II, more than 10,000 pilots passed through Thunderbird Field.

At the kick-off event on June 3, Mayor Scruggs announced M&I Bank as the campaign's honorary co-chair for business development and Glendale residents Ray and Winnie Kultala as the honorary co-chairs for resident development.

If you would like to contribute to this important effort and become a part of the history of Thunderbird School of Global Management, please mail a donation form along with your check so your name can be properly recognized on the donor wall. Donations will be accepted through August 31, 2010. Click here to download the donation form or to read more about the historic tower building. Be a Part of Glendale's Centennial Celebration June 17-19!

Glendale's Centennial birthday bash will include three days of festivities beginning Thursday, June 17 through Saturday, June 19. Thursday will feature the Centennial Summer Band concert performance at 8 p.m. in Murphy Park's Amphitheater. The following day, the 100th anniversary will feature a celebration for the whole family with Centennial Nite Lights in Murphy Park, the debut of the Centennial postmark, which you can purchase as a memento, and many fun-filled activities. The final day of the celebration will be 100 hours of volunteering, with four volunteer projects throughout the city that will allow residents a chance to give back to their community. Be a part of the celebration as we "Honor the past, Celebrate the present and Imagine the Future". For complete details visit www.glendaleaz.com/centennial.

Glendale Civic Center. With nearly 40,000 square feet of rentable space ready to host everything from an intimate family reunion to a large-scale fundraising gala and every wedding, prom and business meeting in between, the Glendale Civic Center is poised to help make your event one that will impress. Our elegant yet contemporary appointments guarantee your guests will enjoy the greatest comforts while our integration of technology will offer the modern conveniences today's professionals demand. Surrounded by lush gardens and located within walking distance of Historic Downtown Glendale's unique international restaurants and shopping districts, the Glendale Civic Center is also minutes away from Glendale's Sports & Entertainment District and the best in professional sports and blockbuster performances. To visit the Glendale Civic Center's Web site, click here.

Glendale Convention & Visitors Bureau – First in the West Valley. Beginning July 1, the Glendale Office of Tourism’s name will change to the Glendale Convention and Visitors Bureau (GCVB).

The city-operated GCVB will represent Glendale and the West Valley and will be the first convention and visitors bureau (CVB) located west of I-17. CVBs throughout the country promote specific tourist and visitor destinations and are directly responsible for developing, promoting and marketing the destination.

CVBs are often the official point of contact for convention and meeting planners, tour operators and visitors. They assist planners with meeting preparation and encourage business travelers and visitors alike to visit local historic, cultural and recreational attractions.
