Garage Door Burglaries – Don't Be a Victim. Glendale Police have reported that homeowners are creating opportunities for burglars to enter garages and residences by leaving garage doors slightly open. This is a common mistake made by residents across the valley especially during hot summer months. By leaving the garage door open a few inches, a good solid pull up will open it enough to allow a criminal to slip under. Although leaving the door up a bit allows for air flow, this also provides an opportunity for criminals to enter and steal items from your garage, or worse yet, enter your home.

Eight Organizations to Receive Performing Arts Partnership Grants. The Glendale City Council has approved eight performing arts groups to receive funding from the Glendale Arts Commission's Performing Arts Partnership Program.

Since the program started in 1996, the Council has approved approximately $562,800 to sponsor 201 performing arts activities that have benefited thousands of Glendale school children and residents. Examples of past sponsored programs include "Ballet Under the Stars" at Sahuaro Ranch Park; artist-in-residency programs at schools throughout Glendale; performances and teaching at Glendale's community centers; art programs for abused, ill and/or homeless children and a variety of hands-on community interest events conducted in the Glendale library system.

Proposals for performing arts projects to be held in Glendale for the 2013-2014 season were solicited from non-profit arts organizations, schools and government agencies. The Arts Commission reviewed and discussed 19 proposals.

One percent of construction projects in the capital improvement program is deposited in the municipal art fund to be used to administer the city's public art and performing arts program. Expenditures from the municipal art fund for the annual Performing Arts Partnership Program are recommended by the Glendale Arts Commission through its annual arts projects plan and are subject to approval by Council.
