

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 6, 2006

CONTACT: Diane Nevill, 623-930-3554
Public Information Officer
Frieda Ling, 623-930-3553
Health Librarian

Helping Your Child Cope with the Allergy Season

GLENDALÉ, Ariz. – Does your child suffer each year when the allergy season rolls around? There is something you can do to help youngsters cope with the discomfort.

“Sneezin’ and Wheezin’: Helping Your Child Live with Allergy” will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 22 in the large meeting room of Glendale Public Library, 5959 W. Brown St. Barbara Stewart, M.D., a pediatric pulmonary specialist from the Children’s Health Center at St. Joseph’s Hospital, will offer timely information that parents will not want to miss.

No registration is required for this free program. Call 623-930-3553 for more information.

###

Only library to receive the Arizona Governor’s Arts Award

Award-winning teen programs

Oldest library
in the Valley,
serving residents
since 1895

Glendale Public Library
Main Library
5959 W. Brown St.
Glendale, AZ 85302
623-930-3530
www.glendaleaz.com/library