“Bumper to Bumper Radio” Comes to the Velma Teague Library

Glendale, Ariz. — Is your car running smoothly, or just running down? Dave Riccio, Matt Allen, and Dave Denmon of KTAR radio will answer your automotive questions and reveal the secrets to extending your car’s lifespan when “Bumper to Bumper Radio Comes to the Teague!” on Saturday, Nov. 15, at 1:15 p.m. at the Velma Teague Branch Library, 7010 N. 58th Ave.

The philosophy of the “Bumper to Bumper Radio,” broadcast each Saturday at 11 a.m., is that “You owe it to yourself and to everyone else on the road to keep your car in great shape.” Even in the uniquely challenging Arizona climate, certain types of preventative maintenance can make all the difference. Here is more information on the Bumper to Bumper Radio show.

A former chair of the Better Business Bureau (BBB) of Central Arizona’s Automotive Advisory Committee, Dave Riccio is an Arizona native who has owned Tri-City Transmission since 2006. Acknowledged by the Automatic Transmission Rebuilders Association (ATRA) as a leader in the industry, Tri-City Transmission has won the Angie’s List Super Service Award for the past two years.

Honored with an IMPACT Award by the Greater Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, Matt Allen began his career in the automotive repair industry at age 16. Since he purchased Virginia Auto Service in 1994, it has been recognized as one of the 10 Best Automotive Repair Shops in the nation by Motor Age Magazine.

Dave Denmon started Dave’s Car Care in Glendale in 1980. This year, it ranked as an AAA Top Shop for the second year in a row and received a BBB Ethics award.
