RESIDENTS HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO DISCUSS IMPORTANT CITY ISSUES WITH MAYOR SCRUGGS

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Mayor Elaine Scruggs will be hosting a series of meetings in the coming weeks to speak with residents and gain their insights on important city-related matters.

The three meetings will be held in various locations throughout Glendale:

Thursday, May 24 at 6:30 p.m.
Apollo Baptist Church
11611 N. 51st Ave.

Thursday, June 7 at 6:30 p.m.
Dove of the Desert United Methodist Church
7201 W. Beardsley Rd.

Thursday, June 21 at 6:30 p.m.
West Valley Church of the Nazarene
6115 N. 91st Ave.

The meetings are being held as part of the mayor's Community Conversations outreach program.

"I'm really looking forward to these meetings as they will provide an opportunity for me to discuss critical policy issues that shape the present and future of our city, as well as learn about other matters that are most important to residents" said Scruggs.

Registration for the event is required and seating will be limited to 50 people at each Community Conversation event. Residents can register by calling 623-930-2260 or visiting glendaleaz.com/RSVP.
