MAYOR ELAINE SCRUGGS RESUMING TOWN HALL MEETINGS THIS FALL

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Mayor Elaine Scruggs will be hosting three community meetings in October to listen and share ideas, perspectives and opinions with residents on key policy issues facing Glendale.

The meetings are being held as part of the mayor's Community Conversations initiative she created several years ago to reach out to residents on important citywide topics. Thus far, nearly 500 residents have attended these town hall meetings.

“Past Community Conversations have generated open and candid discussions about major city issues and I am sure the upcoming meetings will produce a lot of questions, opinions and suggestions on the new issues that have moved to the forefront,” Scruggs said. “I am really looking forward to hearing from our residents and also being able to provide information on the topics they have indicated are most important to them.”

The Community Conversations meetings will be held:

First United Methodist Church
7102 N. 58th Drive
