CALLING ALL GLENDALE CENTENARIANS!

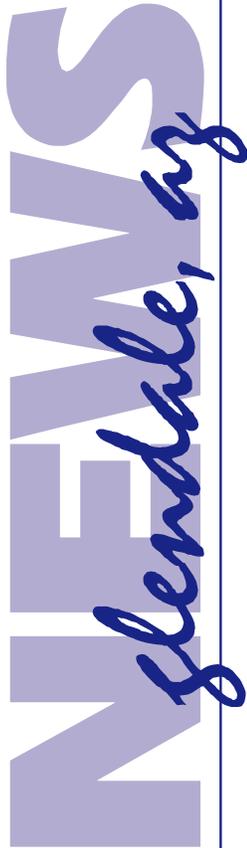

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Do you know a Glendale resident who is 100 years or older? We want to know them, too! The city of Glendale is celebrating its centennial and is looking for residents who can be honored along the centennial journey. In addition to seeking out the oldest Glendale residents, the city is trying to find a resident who has resided in Glendale the longest number of years.

The official Centennial anniversary is June 10, 2010. Throughout the year, the city will commemorate this significant anniversary by engaging residents to participate in events and contests while learning about the rich history of Glendale.

Visit www.glendaleaz.com/centennial or call the Glendale Visitor Center at 623.930.2958 to submit information about either knowing or being a longtime resident or someone who is 100 years or older.

For more information about upcoming centennial events or activities, visit www.glendaleaz.com/centennial.
