2013 GREEN LIVING SERIES STARTS WITH FREE LANDSCAPE DESIGN CLASS

Glendale, Ariz. — Spring planting time is just around the corner. Get a jump start on planning a water- and energy-efficient landscape by attending the free Landscape Design and Renovation class on Tuesday, Jan. 29 at 6 p.m. at the Glendale Main Library, 5959 W. Brown St. The class kicks off the start of a new year for the Glendale Conservation and Sustainable Living program's free monthly "Green Living" class series.

Whether you just want to give your yard a facelift or you're new to the Valley of the Sun, this class provides the basics on landscape design for our unique climate. Jo Miller, co-author of "Earth-Friendly Desert Gardening," will be the instructor for the class. In addition, Maricopa County Master Gardeners will be on hand to answer questions, share tips and provide resources.

The series will continue each month with new topics, guest speakers and local experts. For a complete listing of the "Green Living" class series, go to www.glendaleaz.com/green. The classes are free, but advance registration is required. Call 623-930-3760 or email bpatrick@glendaleaz.com to register. You do not have to be a Glendale resident to attend.
