While the music takes center stage during Glendale’s longest-running music festival, there is much more to see and do, as the event will also feature craft artisans and delicious food and beverages.

In addition, two artists will work on-site, giving event attendees an interactive, one-of-a-kind experience to add to the musical performances. The Glendale Public Art Program is proud to present, “Something to Write Home About,” as an interactive art element during the festival. Under the guidance of artist educators Gregory Sale and Angela Ellsworth, 28 ASU students enrolled in intermedia courses at the School of Art, Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts, will present a series of interactive performances and installations that will unfold over the two-day festival. This series of diverse and engaging activities will respond to the culture of jazz and blues, while also considering the concept of home and community.

The event will run noon to 10 p.m. on Saturday, April 14 and noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday, April 15. Admission is free. Historic Downtown Glendale is located at 58th and Glendale avenues. Preferred parking is available in the two downtown garages, located at City Hall, at 59th and Glendale avenues and the Bank of America building at 58th Drive and Glenn Drive.
