GLENDALE 11 NOMINATED FOR PRESTIGIOUS NATIONAL AWARDS

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Glendale Channel 11 has been recognized in a national competition for government television programming. The City’s television station has been nominated for three awards from the National Association of Telecommunications Officers and Advisors (NATOA).

Glendale 11 is nominated for the festival program Glendale Glitters 2008 in the Community Event Coverage category; the Home Green Home show, documenting the building of Glendale’s first platinum level LEEDS Habitat for Humanity home, in the Documentary Event Coverage category; and the Glendale Spring Training Ballpark promotion in the Event/Program Promotion category.

“Glendale 11 is competing directly against some of the biggest cities and television markets in the country, such as Los Angeles, Atlanta and Denver,” said Laurie Berg Sapp, Station Manager for Glendale 11. “It is a testament to our dedication to providing the utmost quality programming for our residents.”

The NATOA awards recognize the best television programming from local government stations and are based on “excellence in broadcast, cable, multimedia and electronic programming developed by municipal agencies,” according to www.natoa.org. Winners will be announced at the annual NATOA Conference in New Orleans on Oct. 2.

Emmy Award-winning Glendale 11 airs on Cox and Qwest Channel 11 and streams live online at www.glendaleaz.com, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
