SUCCESSFUL GOLF TOURNAMENT PROMOTES SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM FOR GLENDALE YOUTH

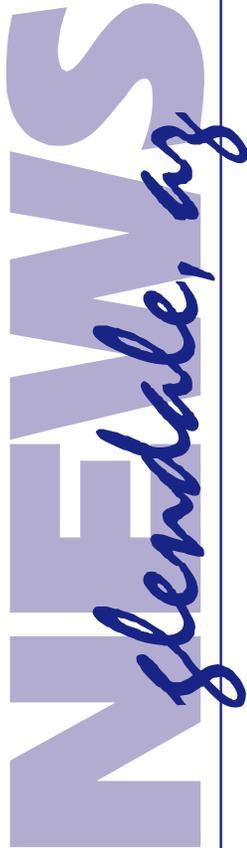

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Glendale’s Parks & Recreation Department hosted its first-ever Hook a Kid on Golf Charity Tournament on April 21 to raise money to support the department’s Hook a Kid of Golf program. The tournament had 84 golfers participate, raising more than $5,000 for the program.

Hook a Kid on Golf is a national initiative that Glendale supports to offer introductory camps for youth ages 8-13 who would not normally have the opportunity to play golf. Camps are offered during the summer to Glendale residents who meet the criteria for the scholarship program.

Results from the tournament are: First place taken by a team representing Triple M Recreation (round – 53): Kevin Richards, Vern Biaett, Gavin Jensen and Mark Englehart; Second place also taken by a team representing Triple M Recreation (round – 54): Pat Lynch, John Sies, Kirby Rubio and Tony Viola; Third place taken by a team representing Tot Turf (round – 55): Bill Stafford, Ryan O’Donell, Brian Dimond and Pete Lugowski. The highest score award (79) was taken by Richard Sledge, Tony Hill, Robert Cruz and Michael Whitmer.

Title sponsor for the tournament was Triple M Recreation, and presenting sponsor for the event was Tot Turf by Robertson Industries, Inc.
