MAY GREEN LIVING CLASSES FOCUS ON ENERGY USE

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Those concerned about the environment or simply looking to save money should mark their calendars for May 14 or 21 for the next set of free classes in the Green Living series presented by the City of Glendale's Conservation and Sustainable Living Program.

The same set of classes will be held on each date in the second floor boardroom of the Glendale Main Library, 5959 W. Brown St. The class times and topics are:

Simple Savings 101 (12:30 to 1:30 p.m.) – Learn simple ways to lower your electric bill from energy experts. Glendale residents who complete this class will receive free CFL's, high-efficiency showerheads, and programmable thermostats.

Solar: A Brighter Future (1:30 to 2:00 p.m.) – Learn about rebates and incentives and whether solar is right for you.

All classes are free, but advance registration is required. You do not have to be a Glendale resident to attend. To sign up for classes, call 623-930-3760 or email bpatrick@glendaleaz.com.
