TEENS CAN EXPLORE PAINTING, DRAWING AND COLOR

Glendale, Ariz. — Teens ages 11-16 that find themselves doodling on their homework, wanting to paint murals on their bedroom walls or just really love to create with their hands have an opportunity to explore their artistic side with the Painting Studio class.

Painting Studio teaches the fundamentals of painting with oils, drawing, painting techniques, color mixing, paint application and color theory. Students can discover the possibilities of oils and the concepts of color composition and perception by working from observation and photo references.

The class will be held from 5:30 to 7 p.m., Mondays, beginning April 2 for 8 weeks, at the Foothills Recreation & Aquatics Center, 5600 W. Union Hills Dr. The sign up price is $80 ($96 for non-Glendale residents). In addition, students will need to bring $20 to the first class for materials, along with a small (#1 or #2 round), medium (#6 flat) and large (#10 flat).
