

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 17, 2006

CONTACT: Marcheta Strunk, Management Assistant 623-930-2822 or mstrunk@glendaleaz.com

APPLICATION MAKES FINDING A GLENDALE PARK AND AMENITIES EASIER

GLENDALE, Ariz. – The Glendale Parks and Recreation Department has made it easier than ever to find a Glendale park and amenities with its new interactive “park finder” site on the internet.

The site, located directly at www.glendaleaz.com/parksandrecreation/parksamenities/index.cfm or click on the Park Finder at www.glendaleaz.com/parksandrecreation, initially shows all Glendale parks on a Google Map. Users can view the map in one of three different modes: map, satellite and a hybrid. The map is interactive and can be zoomed or dragged using the mouse and map controls. To see a park’s name, users just move the mouse over a pin that marks a park location on the map. Clicking on the pin gives a link to the amenities of that park and options to get driving directions. The amenities link gives a detailed map, address and specific park features.

The site can also search parks by amenity, so if a user is looking for a playground, they check that box and run their search. A listing and map of all parks with playgrounds comes up.

Finding a park in Glendale to relax, play and exercise is easier than ever.

###

Home of Arizona's
Best Hometown
Festivals

Home
of the
NHL Coyotes,
Arizona
Cardinals and Fiesta Bowl

Home
of Luke AFB,
the largest F-16
training base
in the world

City of Glendale
Parks & Recreation
5850 W. Glendale Ave.
Glendale, AZ 85301
(623) 930-2820
www.glendaleaz.com