GLENDALE OFFERS HUNDREDS OF PROGRAMS FOR THE COMMUNITY THIS SPRING

GLENDALE, Ariz. –From Ani-Manga Club to Zumba the city of Glendale Parks, Recreation and Library Services has you covered from A to Z providing more than 300 special interest programs, classes and activities that run now through May.

Adults, teens and children can participate in the spring programs that include activities at all three of Glendale’s libraries, the Glendale Adult Center and Foothills Recreation & Aquatics Center including classes in computers, arts, music, dance, exercise, sports, personal development, business and culinary arts. After-school and spring break activities, adult softball leagues, events and special needs programs are also part of the line-up.

Highlights at the libraries include Live at the Library with Teodoro “Ted” Ramirez – a Southwest troubadour, Andy Gonzales Duo and Dave Riley and Bob Corritore; Sensational Spring Booksale; job searching labs; Foothills Coffeehouse; Hunger Games Trivia Challenge; Little Vet Learning Day and Mini Kites on the Library Lawn.

Recreational class highlights include Japanese judo, yoga, beginning Salsa dancing, cake decorating, organic gardening, singing for adults, painting, tennis, youth guitar, cheer and tumbling and junior golf.

The My Community magazine features a complete list of all the activities and is available at the Glendale libraries, parks and recreation centers and online at www.glendaleaz.com/parksandrecreation. Some of the activities require preregistration, so get your copy or go online now.
