GLENDALE PROVIDES TIPS FOR “SURVIVING THE SUMMER”

Glendale, Ariz. — The summers in Arizona can take their toll on all of us, but the Glendale Parks & Recreation Division is offering a free event filled with tips and techniques to help residents get through the summer and make it safer.

“Surviving the Summer” will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., Friday, June 21 at the Westgate Entertainment District’s Fountain Park, 6770 N. Sunrise Blvd.

A variety of agencies and vendors will provide educational information on water safety, sun safety, crime prevention and more. Organizations include the following:

- Swim Neptune and the Foundation of Aquatic Safety and Training with water safety and drowning prevention information
- National Weather Service
- Walgreens with sun and medicine safety
- Maricopa County Attorney’s Office with crime prevention and child safety
- Boy Scouts with information on being “sunwise”
- Midwestern University College of Dental Medicine’s Pre-Doctoral Chapter with children’s dental health information
- Maricopa County Parks and Recreation

Attendees will also garner pet safety, transportation safety and hiking/outdoors safety information.

Many of these businesses and organizations will be handing out freebies and give aways, and Westgate will also have live entertainment during the event.

The event is free and a perfect opportunity for families to gain valuable information. Since it is held at Westgate Entertainment District, a variety of dinner and fun options are also available just steps away.

For more information on the event, visit www.glendaleaz.com/parksandrecreation or call 623-930-2044.
